HARDING ASKS REMEDY FOR PROBLEMS OF RAILROADS AND CREDIT FOR EXPORTS

No Kings In The U. S., Governor To Answer

SPRINGFIELD, July 26.—Judge Smith in his opinion on the question of the arrest of Governor Small for embezzlement today held that warrants should be served on the governor, but that the executive should be permitted to make his appearance at his convenience, within a reasonable time.

The judge developed his opinion as follows:

"That there is no such thing in Illinois as the divine right of kings and that the king has no counterpart in Illinois."

"That it is beyond the scope of the governor's power to call state troops to shield him from arrest."

"That Governor Small, despite his position as chief executive of the state, is subject to arrest and prosecution for his acts as state treasurer."

"That the statutes of limitations would expire through any prolonged delay in serving warrants upon the governor."

"That it is not the duty of the court to withhold warrants for the governor."

"That Governor Small should be permitted to voluntarily present himself before the court."

Notification of Governor Small by telephone was the method of procedure decided upon by Sheriff Messey.

"I may go over for an interview with the governor later," Sheriff Messey said.

"No attempt will be made to embarrass Governor Small. The order of the court explains how the matter will be handled."

Judge Smith adjourned court until the September term which begins September 5.

UNITED STATES DESIRES BROAD PROGRAM AT THE DISARMAMENT MEETING

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)
WASHINGTON, July 25.—Japan is ready to accept America's invitation to participate in the disarmament conference.

In accepting the invitation, Japan does not bind herself to discuss anything which she wishes to exclude from the scope of the conference such as questions relating to Shantung or Yip, or other matters which Japan may consider closed by the time the conference begins.

America has not specified what subjects will be discussed except in a general way—disarmament and peace in the Far East.

These statements from officials of our government, who are in touch with the negotiations, describe the status of the interchanges between Japan and the United States thus far.

Our government originally asked all the powers informally if an invitation to a disarmament conference would be acceptable. That is, diplomacy's way of avoiding a direct showdown. The informal inquiries resulted in agreeable statements from all the

3 DECKS OF MAURETANIA ARE BURNED

SOUTHAMPTON, July 26.—After a battle lasting more than twelve hours, the flames on board the Cunard liner Mauretania, which broke out while she was lying at pier here yesterday, were finally conquered by the firemen early today, but not before the interior of the mammoth liner presented a sorry spectacle of fire and water.

The damage is not so extensive as was feared at first, but it is serious enough, and considerable time will be required to put the big vessel into shape. Meanwhile, the passengers booked to sail on the Mauretania will be transferred to other ships. No estimate of the damage in money is possible as yet.

The fire originated in a first class cabin on the starboard side of the E deck, and fifty cabins on that deck, extending across the ship and forward of the engine room bulkhead for eighty feet, were destroyed. The flooring of the main saloon on the D deck was badly burned and buckled.

Japan Eager To Preserve Peace

TOKYO, July 26.—Official circles tonight were disposed to forecast definite action by the Japanese cabinet tomorrow (Tuesday) in acceptance of President Harding's suggestion for a Far Eastern conference.

Apparently the talks between Ambassador Shidehara and Secretary of States Hughes in Washington have gone far toward clarifying the situation.

According to Japan's understanding of the American viewpoint, as given here, America's idea is to make the basis of the conference a broad discussion of policies and principles, rather than of specific topics, although each participant would have the right to introduce specific subjects if COLUMBUS, O., July 26.—A group of Cincinnati residents headed by William J. Schmitt, today filed suit in the Ohio supreme court to compel City Auditor George P. Carroll, of Cincinnati, to certify to the board of elections a referendum petition for submission to the voters at the August primaries, of an amendment to an ordinance regulating fares that may be charged by the Cincinnati Street Railway and Cincinnati Traction companies.

Cincinnati street car lines operate under a service-at-cost system the fare at present being 8 1/2 cents. Council passed an amendment permitting the companies to postpone payment of $700,000 franchise tax for 1920 and 1921 until 1922, in order to reduce the rate of fare one half cent on August 1 and one half cent on November 1. Auditor Carroll is said to hold that an amendment to an ordinance is not subject to referendum.

Here Is The True Tale Of Heat-Weary Servants Of Golf-Mad 'Gators And A Hotel Man's Trouble

NEW YORK, July 26.—Diners at an exclusive hostelry on the Hudson above Yonkers, for years have enjoyed the beautiful view of the private course that lies below the hotel terrace. They particularly admired the effect of the sunset on the waters of the lake.

But with the advent of an excessively hot summer, servants from nearby estates discovered the lake made an excellent swimming hole and repaired there each evening in time to spoil the quiet shimmer of the sunset on the water by splashing and shouts.

A few days ago the managers solved the sunset shimmer problem by importing two seven foot alligators from Florida. But the alligators grew restless and took to the golf course, where they raised new objections from hotel guests by following them about, devouring golf balls and watching them with cold eyes as they teed off.

Now the hotel manager can find no one to catch and crate the alligators and his only remaining hope is to fence in the lake to shut out the water-mad bathers and shut in the golf-mad alligators.

EXPORT FINANCING BILL PROMPTLY INTRODUCED; RAILWAY BILL COMING

WASHINGTON, July 26.—President Harding sent a message to congress today asking legislation authorizing the war finance corporation to handle funding of railroad indebtedness and to increase credit for financing agricultural exports.

That there were "moral obligations" upon the government to aid in both respects was stated by the president, who commended the war finance corporation as an agency of great value in restoring economic conditions.

Prompt action was requested, but the president did not ask that both features be contained in one bill.

Republican leaders, therefore, adopted the plan of dealing with the railroad and agricultural questions in separate measures. Senator Kellogg, Republican, Minnesota, introduced a bill drafted by Secretary Hoover, of the department of commerce, and Chairman Meyer, of the war finance corporation, extending the powers of the war finance corporation to agricultural export financing. It also would increase the corporation's revolving credit fund from five hundred million to one billion dollars.

The Kellogg bill was offered as substitute for the pending Norris bill to create a new government export financing corporation with one hundred million dollars capital.

Provisions dealing with railroad funding were stricken from the Hoover-Meyer draft before it was presented and Republican leaders planned to consider later and separately the president's recommendations that the war finance corporation take over railroad funding.

Introduce Important Bill

WASHINGTON, July 26.—After elimination of provisions authorizing the war finance corporation to take charge of railroad debt funding, the bill drafted by Secretary Hoover, of the department of commerce, and Director Meyer, of the war finance corporation, to broaden the corporation's power to provide credits for agricultural exports, was introduced today in the senate by Senator Kellogg, Republican, Minnesota.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 26.—President Harding in a special message to congress today asked it to extend the authority of the war finance corporation, to purchase securities, probably up to $500,000,000 now in the hands of the railroad administration so that the proceeds may be used for settlements with the railroads.

This, the president told congress, would open the way to "early adjustment and relief" of the railroad problem. There was no thought, he said, of asking congress for additional money.

Railway claims based on the "inefficiency of labor" during the war, the president said, were to be waived for the present to hasten settlement without surrender of any rights to the government large sums, the president said, the government also owed the railroads large sums on various accounts.

"No added expense," said the president, explaining his request, "no added investment is required on the part of the government, there is no added liability, no added tax burden."

Merely Authority To Use Funds

"It is merely the grant of authority necessary to enable a most useful and efficient government agency to use its available funds to purchase securities for which congress already has authorized the issue and turn them into channels of finance ready to float them."

"The contract covering operation provided that the railroads should be returned to their owners in as good condition as when taken over by the government and the transportation act, recognizing that betterments and additions belong to capital account, provided that such sums as the railway companies owed the government for betterments and new equipments, added during the period of government operation, might be refunded. There has been at no time, any question about the justice of funding such indebtedness to the government. Indeed, it has been progress to a measurable degree ever since the return of the railroads to their owners. It has been hauled, however, to such cases as those in which final settlements with the railway administration have been effected. The process is admittedly too slow to meet the difficult situation which the owners of the railroads have been facing and I believe it essential to restore railway activities and essential to the country's good fortune to hasten both funding and settlement."

"Quite apart from the large sums owing to the government which we are morally and legally bound to fund, the government admittedly owes the railway companies large sums on various accounts such as compensation, depreciation and maintenance. Has The Funds

"The way now would seem to be clear to very early adjustment and relief except for the fact that the railway administration, although possessing assets, does not command the funds necessary to meet what will be its admitted obligations."

"There is no thought to ask congress for additional funds. Perhaps five hundred million dollars will be necessary. The railroad administration has, or will have in the progress of funding, ample securities to meet all requirements if congress will only grant the authority to negotiate these securities and provide the agency for their negotiation."

"With this end in view you are asked to extend the authority of the war finance corporation so that it

Big Truck Overloaded; Driver Arrested

The first arrest for alleged overloading a motor truck in violation of the traffic ordinance which went into effect a few months ago came late Monday afternoon, when at the instance of Safety Director St. Straus, Patrolman Theo. Branham took into custody B. E. Curless, driver of a 15-ton truck owned by the Work Motor Service company, of Cincinnati.

It developed that the truck was being used in transporting material for road building in the vicinity of Wheelersburg and the vehicle appeared to the officials as carrying an extra heavy burden at it moved along Third street.

The driver secured his release on bond and at his request the case was continued for hearing for one week by Judge Sprague when it was called for trial in Municipal court Tuesday.

Freight Men Form Improvement Association

Employees of the Portsmouth and New Boston freight stations of the N. & W. held a meeting Monday evening at the N. & W. freight house in this city and formed an Improvement Association to be known as the Portsmouth-New Boston Improvement Association to assist in improving the efficiency in the handling of the work at the Portsmouth station and New Boston station and to bring about a reduction in loss and damage claims.

The meeting was presided over by local agent H. C. Bugh who explained to them the object of forming such an Association which is similar to improvement associations organized at all principal stations on the Norfolk and Western system. The local men formed a unit organization in assisting the Central System Efficiency organization conducting their campaign against loss and damage claims. Mr. Bugh also outlined the work of such an organization.

N. & W. Chief Clerk W. J. Bruch then addressed the men explaining how the System meetings are carried on and how they could cooperate and form a part in the movement to reduce claims which is a general movement on all railroads at present.

The men then decided to make the organization permanent and Elmer Blatt was appointed general chairman and Clifford Bickel, general secretary. The time of the next meeting was set for Monday, Aug. 8 at the local freight station at which time committees appointed last night will be in shape to start work. The committee appointed last night were Loading and Storage, Charles Davis, chairman, Wm. Hill, Sam. Dadds, James Stamper, Loss and Damage, Ed Debo, chairman, John Wolf, Mont Jones, Silas Ripalto; Records and Accounting, John Cross, chairman, Geo. Mader, George List, J. Brushart; Billing and Routing, John Debo, Russell Yinger, K. E. Burt, Charles Glickner.

Revising Confessions In White Sox Scandal Trial

CHICAGO, July 26.—When Walter J. Smith, court stenographer, who took down Eddie Cicotte's grand jury confession, began reading the confession in the baseball trial today, so many objections were raised by the defense that it was necessary to adjourn court temporarily while the attorneys went into conference with Judge Hugo Friend.

Since a confession can be used only against the man making it, Smith was not allowed to mention any name except Cicotte's. The defense maintained that such words as "ball players," "outfielders" and "infielders" also were barred.

Judge Friend ordered the attorneys to reach an agreement on the wording of the confession before presenting them in court, but after two hours of argument only two pages of Cicotte's eight-page statement had been revised.

Indications were that it would take all day to revise the three confessions. The stenographers who took down the confessions of Joe Jackson and Claude Williams, former White Sox players, are expected to follow Smith on the stand.

Alfred Austrian, attorney for the Chicago-American League Club, will strengthen the state's case by telling of the confessions of Cicotte, Jackson and Williams made to him before going to the grand jury room. Harry J. Brigham, foreman of the grand jury, before whom the confessions were made, will be called to verify the court reporter's stenographic stories. The confession testimony is expected to consume the entire day and if the state decides to call William Maharg and Joe Gedeon, the two remaining witnesses, they probably will not take the stand before tomorrow. The state, however, may decide its case is complete without their testimony.

Meanwhile, preparations are going forward for the proposed investigation by a grand jury of the newest baseball scandal, the alleged $10,000 testimony presented to the first grand jury, while state's attorneys have also announced a wider investigation of the 1919 scandal and other possible indictments if convictions are secured in the present cases.

Grand Jury Is Probing Milk Prices And Building Industry

CINCINNATI, July 26.—Grand Jury consideration of the building industry and milk price situations in Cincinnati began today. County Prosecutor Louis H. Capella presented to the inquirers all the information he had been able to collect and tabulate upon both subjects.

After the jurors have considered this they will deliberate with the prosecutor upon the "scope and method of their investigation," as to whether there has been any collusion to keep up prices.

Bailey Is Better

Sidney Bailey, South Portsmouth man, who was shot in the back of the head Sunday afternoon, following a quarrel and fist fight which was the climax of trouble he had at a card game earlier in the day, was resting much better today.

The alleged gun-user, Everett Graycraft, has not been located by Constable Hammond of South Portsmouth.

Bailey wears a straw hat, and the fact that he wore it tilted on one side of his head is said to have prevented most of the small shot from entering the scalp and head, the hat deflecting the shot.

Hardings To Enjoy Trip

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 26.—A vacation of several days in the White mountains in New Hampshire, is planned by President and Mrs. Harding, to follow their attendance next Monday at the Pilgrim tercentenary celebration at Plymouth, Mass.

During their outing they are to be guests of Secretary Weeks of the war department at his country place near Lancaster, N. H. Under present plans they will go directly there from Plymouth, arriving a week from today and probably remaining until the following Saturday, or Sunday. During the stay the president expects to accept no invitations but to devote his whole time to rest and recreation.

It is hoped to make the trip to New England back on the presidential yacht Mayflower, in order to give to the president and Mrs. Harding at least two weeks away from the cares of the White House. Tentative plans have been made to leave here on the yacht late next Friday, reaching Plymouth on Monday morning. After the day's ceremonies, during which the president will make a public address, the party expects to proceed on the Mayflower to some port further north, where they are to transfer to automobiles on Tuesday morning for the ride to Lancaster.

President Is Golf Winner

WASHINGTON, July 26.—President Harding paired up with Jim Barnes, winner of the national open golf tournament here last week and defeated Frank McLeod, runner up in the tournament, and Robert T. Small, a Washington newspaper man, in a foursome on the links of the Columbia country club yesterday afternoon.

The President and Barnes thus wiped out a defeat suffered at the hands of McLeod and Small during his pre-inauguration trip in Florida last winter.

The match was warmly contested, being decided by a single point. In order that it might not narrow down to a struggle between the two professionals alone, two points were played to the hole. One point was for the best ball and the other for the lowest aggregate score. Barnes covered the course in 75 and McLeod turned in 77. The scores of the President and Mr. Small were not revealed.

Ironton Pastor Exonerated

The Ironton Irontonian says: "Finis" has been written in the matter of a choice bit of local gossip which was given unusual exploitation. The following card, given to the Irontonian last night by the gentlemen whose names are attached thereto, is self-explanatory:

Gossip and newspaper publicity oftentimes convey wrong impressions. Misunderstandings are sometimes occasioned by want of knowledge of all the facts. We feel that such was the case with reference to publicity given the incidents connected with the recent camping trip of the Girl Scouts.

The pastor and his wife who chaperoned these girls exonerate them from any improper conduct while on this camping trip. Admitting that indiscretions in the extent of his words and actions the pastor has satisfied the parents of the girls who took this trip that his conduct was not in any way malicious. An amiable adjustment of this incident has been reached by the pastor and a committee representing the parents of the girls, and the incident is by them considered closed.

MRS. HARMON, WHO WAS SHOT THREE TIMES BY HUSBAND, WILL RECOVER

Mrs. Charles Harmon, 25, Ellsberry, Brown county, near Manchester, shot three times by her husband Charles Harmon, 28, about 9:30 Monday morning after it is claimed she refused to have anything more to do with him, will probably recover the three bullets not striking any vital organs and all three coming out of her body.

Harmon is claimed to have held his wife or struggled with her firing during the time. One shot entered near the right temple and came out the top of her head. One entered her mouth and broke a number of false teeth the woman spitting out the bullet with the broken molars. The third shot entered her right arm below the elbow and passed through it.

Mrs. Walter Boone, a neighbor was at the home of Mrs. Harmon at the time. According to the story told by Mrs. Harmon Monday afternoon she had been having trouble with her husband who had not been staying at home. She returned yesterday morning from Mayville bringing with him a new pair of shoes and stockings which he wanted her to take. It is claimed she told him to take his gifts and leave her alone. Although Harmon is supposed to be a Christian minister his wife claims he is possessed of the "devil." They were married only six months ago.

This gun used by Harmon was an old 32 revolver which he is thought to have purchased in Mayville yesterday. He had been holding meetings in that section for about three years. He was also in the service during the World War. Several years ago the people of Mayville made up a purse for him and sent him to a ministerial school in Kentucky.

Harmon after shooting himself twice in the head remained about the house until officers from that section started with him to the county jail at Georgetown. The Sheriff met the prisoner at Ripley and took him to jail. On arrival at the jail Harmon is said to have requested the Sheriff to call and ask how his wife was getting along and he appeared deeply interested in her condition.

He is held pending the outcome of his wife's condition.

Don't Go From Bad to Worse

Colds and gripes leave thousands with weak kidneys and aching backs. The kidneys have to do most of the work of filtering out of the blood all the poisons that enter it. If they become weak, the blood is not properly purified, and the result is a general weakness, a slow-down. Then you will feel dull, irritable or nervous, and will have headaches, dizziness, backache, sore joints and irregular kidney action. Give the kidneys quick help and avoid serious kidney trouble. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They are recommended the world over. Ask your neighbor.

Follow This Portsmouth Example

Drivers Urged To Dim Lights

The Portsmouth Auto Club is receiving many complaints of auto owners driving with glaring headlights. Auto-ists are warned of the danger of causing accidents by driving with bright headlights.

The new city traffic ordinance provides that all autos shall show two lights in front, throwing light not over 50 feet. No rays from these shall be more than three and a half feet above the surface of the street or highway.

Requirements of Section 12014 of the General Code of Ohio the new law effective August 17 regulates the use of spotlights. Spotlights when an approaching auto is in sight must be turned directly to the ground at a distance not more than 30 feet ahead of the machine and to the right of the center of the road. The Auto Club thinks that it would be a good idea for the local auto owners to get acquainted with this law before it goes into effect.

Rain No Hinderance To Meeting

The rain last evening failed to keep many from attending the gospel test meeting at Third and Court streets. The interest in these meetings is increasing. At each service there is a strong and convincing manifestation of the spirit of God which doubtless accounts for the splendid attendance. People will go a long way and through difficulties to be where God is.

Mrs. Gump is winning the hearts of all by her sweet songs. So many are heard with such sweetness and power.

Evangelist Moore preached from the scripture incidents of Ananias and Sapphira: lying to God. The truth of being honest with God was powerfully applied to the congregation by the Holy Ghost. Several requested prayer that they might be right in God's sight and after the dismissal two remained for prayer and found peace and joy in Christ.

The people of Portsmouth will find it a great attraction and feast to attend these test meetings and will be glad to hear the gospel in its purity.

TELLS WHY MEN GREW THIN AFTER LEAVING THE ARMY

Suggests Way for Them to Regain Weight, Strength, Clear Skin, Vitality.

His Tip Is Good For Women Also

For those who are not familiar with the vital part Vitamins play in health, it may be said that most foods contain Vitamins, but this Vitamins element is often destroyed in cooking, canning or preparing. In the Army, Navy, Sanitariums, etc., men and women are fed a scientific diet, rich in Vitamins and quickly grow stronger, robust, rosy, and free of skin troubles. As soon as they leave the Army or Navy and the scientific diet and start choosing their own foods, they usually grow thin, weak, pale and anemic. That is why doctors, medical journals, hospitals, Public Health officials and chemists advise people to get more Vitamins. This explains why many people are eating yeast, which is rich in Vitamins B.

Local druggists recommend a tiny tablet, which is very easy to take, and contains a proper dose of both Water and Fat Soluble Vitamins in highly concentrated form. Results are quick, more economical, and, being made expressly for medical use, are better for you. People who are half-sick, pale, thin, under-nourished condition report they have taken these Phos-Pho Vitamins Tablets three or four weeks and gained weight, strength, color, freedom from boils, pimples, carbuncles, etc., and feel like new. That is why doctors can secure a bottle of sixty Phos-Pho Vitamins Tablets at the nearest drug store or send for a free trial to Irving Laboratories, Wheeling, W. Va.—Advertisement

COURT HOUSE

Oppy Handed Stiff Sentence

"One year in the county jail and pay a fine of $1,000 and costs," was the sentence meted out by Judge Gilman Tuesday to James C. "Boss" Oppy, 39 years old, of Wick Ridge, former justice of the peace for Irish Creek township, who was found guilty of a charge of contributing to the delinquency of his sixteen-year-old daughter, Mary Elizabeth Oppy, at a hearing before the probate court a few days ago.

The sentence imposed by the court came at the end of arguments of counsel on a motion for a new trial, which was denied.

Oppy still persistently denies guilt of mistreating his daughter and declares that he has been made victim of perjured testimony and a frame-up.

The case may be carried up to the higher court on error, it was stated Tuesday, but this will not be definitely determined until Judge Blair, attorney for Oppy, has had an opportunity to confer with his client and friends.

Finding For Plaintiff

After hearing the evidence in the case of Taylor Henson against Eale Wiley, Judge Thomas, in Common Pleas court Tuesday, awarded judgment in favor of the plaintiff and ordered cancellation of a contract involving a house and lot situated in North Moreland addition. By agreement Wiley's suit for $800 damages was dismissed.

Attorneys Miller & Seal for plaintiff and Attorney L. A. Thompson for Wiley.

Application To Pay Claims

Triving Drew, receiver of The Union Glass company, filed an application in Common Pleas court Tuesday asking authority of the court to pay certain claims, including weekly premiums to a local loan company, insurance premiums, $250 to J. A. Leggett for services as bookkeeper, and Edward Gius, Thomas Dupuy and Cecil S. Miller for services, as appraisers.

Engle Seeks Divorce

Alleging willful absence for a period of more than three years, Virgil L. Engle seeks a divorce from Opal L. Engle in a suit instituted in Common Pleas court Tuesday.

They were married Sept. 11, 1916, and through Attorney Theo. K. Funk the plaintiff says that the present residence of the defendant is unknown to him. They have one child, now more than three years old.

Continued For Investigation

Judge Thomas heard the evidence in the divorce suit of Georgia I. Dietrich, Jackson avenue, against Eltis S. Dietrich, former local machinist, now living in Columbus, in Common Pleas court Tuesday and then continued the case for investigation.

They were married Oct. 9, 1915, and she alleged neglect. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney H. Stanley McCall.

Feeling, heart interest, sob and smiles make great pictures greater.

"The Rider of the King Log" is indelibly stamped with these qualities.

It's great because it takes you to God's own country amid the summer fragrance and winter tang of the Maine pines.

It's great because it shows "K.K.", a husky dynamo of a man, king of the lumberland, fighting for his daughter.

It's great because it inspires by its power, exalts by its strength and thrills with its climaxes.

And, being great, it will pull your heartstrings.

See "The Rider of the King Log" tomorrow. We recommend it for its greater than greatness.

miss seeing him.

Bert Lytell is brilliant as ever, versatile as ever, putting into his work a nerve and a distinction which make him easily the unrivaled star of stars.

Each picture one sees him in shows a new side, yet in this, his latest, even his most devoted admirers will be astonished at the dazzling perfection of his work.

As Horace Parker, the wealthy young Englishman who is the personification of egotism, no fault can be found with Mr. Lytell's interpretation.

Parker's complacency suddenly comes to an end when he finds he has a visitor from Mars saddled on to him, a visitor invisible to the world but visible to him. The messenger tells Parker that until the regeneration takes place, he is condemned to haunt him. Then the fun and the tragedy begin after vainly trying to get rid of the unwelcome guest by many subterfuges, Parker suddenly goes through London town, seeing the chequered patterns of life, and finally winning salvation with the breakdown of his hard self-satisfaction.

C. H. Press will leave next week for New York, where he will buy goods for the house furnishing department of The Anderson Bros. department store.

Likewise, many blood disorders such as eczema, tetter, pimples, boils, blackheads and rheumatism are caused by impurities in the blood supply and can be stopped only when these are driven out. Enrich your blood and keep it pure by taking S.S.S. You could have no better health insurance.

may purchase these railway funding securities accepted by the director general of railroads. No added expense, no added investment is required on the part of the government, there is no added liability, no added tax burden. It is merely the grant of authority necessary to enable a most useful and efficient government agency to use its available funds to purchase securities for which congress has already authorized the issue, and turn them in to the channels of finance ready to float them.

President Hopeful

"For I can readily believe that so simple a remedy will have your prompt sanction. The question of our obligation can not be raised, the wisdom of affording early relief is not to be doubted, and the avoidance of added appropriation or liability will appeal to congress and the public alike."

"Pending proposals for relief and their discussion have already brought to the attention of congress the very promising possibilities of broadening the powers of the war finance corporation for the further relief of agriculture and live stock production. This corporation has proven itself so helpful in the relief thus far undertaken that I can not help but believe that its broadened powers, as have been proposed, to meet agricultural needs, will enable it wholly to meet the nation-wide emergency. This is an impelling moral obligation to American farming in all its larger aspects and it will be most gratifying to have your early sanction."

Railway Prosperity

An Essential

"In the case of the railroads there is a moral and a contractual obligation of your favorable action is no less urgent and will no less appeal to public approval. Railway solvency and efficiency are essential to our healthful industrial, commercial and agricultural life. Everything hinges on transportation."

"After necessary and drastic curtailments, after harrowing straits in meeting their financial difficulties, the railroads need only this financial aid which the fulfillment of our obligations will bestow, to inaugurate their far reaching revival. Its effects will be felt in various industries and will banish to a large degree the depression which, though inevitable in war's aftermath, we are all so anxious to see ended."

With his message the president also sent to congress a large amount of data from Director General Davis, showing the progress of liquidation so far and treating present financial conditions.

raise the question of immigration and demand a declaration in favor of racial equality as she did at the Paris conference are regarded as inspired by newspapers rather than the Japanese Government, for officials say the Japanese Government hasn't raised any such issue. Inasmuch as the agenda will be arranged by cable ahead of time and within the realm of secret interchanges, the prospects are that by the time the program is announced the racial discrimination question will have been disposed of so it will not be an obstacle to the conference. It will be far easier for Japanese public opinion to understand the complete omission of the racial equality issue than to have the great powers discuss such a moot point and be forced to the expression of varying opinions. Japanese pride would rather not have the powers publicly discuss such a question. The Japanese consider themselves racially the equal of any other race and to petition for a declaration on the subject might seem to be expressing a doubt whether such a right of equality is actually possessed. Japan gains more in the long run by assuming that she is the equal racially of any other nation and insisting upon rights of equality than by raising the subject in a world conference. It would be the same if the United States or any other power petitioned a world conference to declare that America was a sovereign state.

The chances are that notwithstanding some efforts that are being made to belound the disarmament conference with extraneous questions before it begins, the Japanese will confine their attention to matters of commercial opportunity in the Far East and avoid immigration subjects, which can be dealt with by direct agreement between the powers vitally interested.

The American Government holds that immigration is a domestic question and as such hardly debatable. Its economic and not political aspects are uppermost. The last immigration bill has revealed the desire of the American Government to protect its workers from cheap labor of all races and that right of economic protection will never be submitted to an international conference by the Harding administration.

Now that Japan is ready to enter the conference the next step is the "agenda." What questions will be on it? The success of the entire disarmament conference depends upon the skill with which the problems are submitted for discussion, the exact phraseology used and the principles enunciated. Secretary Hughes is eager to get at that part of the business and as soon as Japan's acceptance is here within the next twenty-four hours he will begin to draft a programme of suggestions.

3 Decks

The priceless carved wood panelling in the saloon, for which the Mauretania was famous, is untouched except for a few scorched places. The flooring of the upper saloon on the C deck was severely damaged, while the woodwork around the funnel casings between the A and E decks was completely burned.

Other parts of the ship were badly damaged by water, but not irreparably.

The fire broke out anew several times during the night, but finally was completely extinguished. Four firemen were sent to a hospital for treatment after inhaling smoke.

The Mauretania which came into her berth here on the run from New York on Friday, was being refurnished for her next trip to America. An employee of an upholstery contractor was cleaning the carpet in a first class state room on E deck. He was using petrol and was smoking. Ashes from his cigarette dropped into the petrol and started the costly blaze.

Water Supply Falls

The man ran to Chief Steward Sayers, who rang the fire gong and sounded bugles, warning the members of the crew, who ran to their stations on the steamship and connected the hoses to the hydrants.

To the dismay of all there was no water. The ship, however, by this time, was in flames, which secured at least ten minutes start before water could be directed to the danger spot.

Here, apparently is the reason the conflagration gripped the vessel before measures to check the blaze could be taken. According to the rules of the board of trade when a boat is docked the water tanks must be filled and the port holes closed. Not only was there no water on the Mauretania, but the port holes also were open and smoke belched from them in dense masses.

Captain MacNeil, dock superintendent of the Cunard Line, attacked the outbreak from the Mauretania's deck while rugs poured tons of water into the ship from the harbor until the Southampton city fire brigade arrived. The flames continued to burst out through the port holes but they never topped the ship, the boat deck being untouched.

Fire Spreads Rapidly

The liner was a red hot mass shortly after the outbreak of the fire and the fire fighters were unable to approach her. Stages were then flung over the rails of the docks with firemen, wearing smoke helmets, hanging on them and directing the hoses toward the flames which worked between the steel bulkheads and the wooden winesteering. The fire spread both latterly and upward.

A couple of hours after the fire started the liner listed heavily under the tons of water poured into her and she was in imminent danger of heeling over. The pumps were ordered manned and the Mauretania was righted after several hours of work. The whole of the famous dining saloon with its costly carvings and paintings is now only a charred ruin. The lounge also was destroyed. The state rooms aft of the saloon were gutted as well as all the cabins on the E and L decks. The flooring of four other decks was warped so much as to make the decks resemble the waves of the ocean.

The electrical plant in the fore part of the ship was wrecked, rendering it most difficult to continue fighting the flames at nightfall.

BEST TREATMENT FOR ULCERS IS "PREVENTION"

CLEVELAND, July 26.—The best treatment for ulcers of the stomach which usually result in cancers, is prevention, Dr. S. V. Robuck, of Chicago, declared today before the twenty-fifth annual convention of the American Osteopathic Association. "Ulcers of the stomach are caused by 'slinker slouch' posture, he said. "When assuming the posture of the 'slinker slouch,' Dr. Robuck said, 'the back loses its normal curve and the individual becomes round shouldered, the chest flat and narrow and the lower abdomen pouchy and bulging.'"

"Cancers are usually the after-sult of ulcers. Ulcers are due to disturbed nourishment of the stomach. "When the wall of the lower abdomen becomes sagging, the stomach and intestines naturally must drop in proportion and this results in an undue strain on the ligaments supporting the first part of the intestine. "The correct posture should be assumed carrying the head and shoulders erect and the chest well elevated. "Nearly two thousand delegates are attending the convention, which closes Friday.

Famine And Pellagra Are Threatening In The South

WASHINGTON, D. C. July 26.—Federal agencies, acting at President Harding's direction, were working at emergency speed today to relieve conditions in a large section of the southern cotton belt which are reported by the public health service to threaten a near state of famine, coupled with a widespread epidemic of pellagra. Alarmed by the report of conditions, which are attributed to the economic plight of cotton growers resulting from depression in the cotton market, President Harding yesterday called upon the public health service and the American Red Cross to make an immediate investigation to ascertain the actual conditions and to lose no time in applying an effective remedy.

RAILROAD STATISTICS INDICATE BETTER TIMES ARE COMING

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 26.—A distinct improvement in general business conditions is seen in the latest available railroad figures. The demand for freight cars continues to increase, while the net operating income of the railroads in May is shown to have been $37,240,000, or $7,077,000 more than in April.

Taken together these two significant facts are regarded as the most encouraging symptom that the distressing readjustment process is practically over and that the country is now making slow but certain progress toward normal.

According to statistics supplied by the Association of Railway Executives, the number of surplus freight cars of all kinds on June 30, was 273,701, a decrease of 4,050 from the total on June 23. As a similar decrease had been recorded for the preceding week, this is considered as a sure indication that despite the usual summer dullness there has been a substantial renewal of industrial and commercial activity. Still more encouragement is seen in the May statement of the railroads' net operating income, totaling $37,240,000. This is the largest monthly amount earned by the railroads since last November when the total was $54,343,703.

On the basis of the tentative valuation fixed by the interstate commerce commission for rate-making purposes, the net operating income in May would be at an annual rate of return on invested capital of 2.41 percent, compared with 2.22 percent in April.

Total operating revenues in May according to the association's figures, were $144,506,000, or only 2 percent less than during May, 1920, while operating expenses totaled $37,715,000, or a reduction of 13.2 percent compared with May, 1920. A striking comparison is the net operating income of $37,240,000 in May, 1921, with the operating deficit of $5,519,000 in May, 1920.

This demonstrates conclusively the effectiveness of the economy and retrenchment program which the railroads put into practice during the past year.

The ratio of operating expenses to revenues has shown a steady decline. The May, 1921, figures, for example, fell to 85.4 percent from 86.6 percent in April and 87.10 percent in March.

During the nine months since September 1, 1920, when the guaranty period expired, the net operating income of the railroads has totaled $370,715,000, which, the railroad officials claim, is $400,000,000 below the amount contemplated to be earned under the rates established by the interstate commerce commission.

If the demand for surplus freight cars continues throughout July and gains are shown in the net operating income of the railroads for June administration leaders are confident that a still more pronounced revival in all lines of business will develop in the early fall. Once that revival gets under way, they believe the pendulum will swing back toward prosperity, with irresistible force.

COL. W. V. SIMMONS PASSES AWAY IN FLORIDA

Colonel W. V. Simmons, for many years business manager and secretary of the Portsmouth Daily Blade, passed away yesterday at his home near Miami, Florida. News of his death was conveyed in a telegram received by his niece, Mrs. E. K. McKeown of Ironton and who also formerly resided here.

Several weeks ago, Col. Simmons was stricken with paralysis and it is believed that this eventually resulted in his death. However he rallied from the stroke and was improving until last Saturday when his condition took a sudden change for the worse and he soon passed beyond human aid.

After disposing of his interest in the Portsmouth Blade ten years ago, Col. Simmons went to Florida for a visit. He became enamored of the climate there and purchased a farm four miles from Miami. There he retired down to enjoy the fruits of his long years of labor. He remained there and he and his wife lived contentedly on their farm, which yielded them a comfortable living. Col. Simmons apparently was in his usual good health until stricken with paralysis last May.

William Valentine Simmons was born March 20, 1848 in Lawrence county, Ohio. He attended school at the District schools and two years at Lebanon, O. He always thought the best part of his education was obtained on his father's farm in the Ohio valley near Marion. He began teaching school in 1871 and followed that for five years. Then he farmed the old homestead on Agnew's Creek, Lawrence county, till 1884 when he came to Portsmouth and was a deputy with Charles Kinney treasurer, for six months. In 1885 he went into the Tribune Company purchasing the interest of Al McFarland. The company was later changed to the Blade Printing company and Mrs. Simmons was secretary, treasurer and general manager.

He was married in 1880 to Nancy J. Cole, daughter of Allen Cole. Mr. and Mrs. Simmons resided at 80 West Sixth street for a number of years. He took life easy and strange to say for a newspaper man, seemed to enjoy it. He let his neighbors worry if they liked, but he seemed to appreciate all the pleasures of life and enjoyed them every day. The business of the Blade company prospered under his management. When Col. Simmons first wife passed away he became dissatisfied here and made arrangements to locate in Florida. Col. Simmons in politics was an uncompromising Republican. He always evinced an interest in local, state and national politics and was happiest when he was in the midst of a hot political battle. With his colleague and co-worker for many years, the late Col. John M. Higgins, he would rather discuss politics than any other subject. They were inseparable for many years and were prominent figures in the ranks of Republicanism in Portsmouth and Scioto county. Death stilled the generous heart of Col. Higgins on February 17, 1920.

Col. Simmons was a man known for his liberal traits of character. He would rather give than receive. He loved to tell a story and his friends delighted in relating a good one to him. He was affable and companionable at all times and always had a warm spot in his heart for Portsmouth. When he met any Scioto countian in Florida he would inquire about many things back in the old home town he loved so dearly. For many years Col. Simmons looked after the business affairs of the Daily Blade. He was a great man for system and always took care of his faithful employees. He was a newspaperman of the old school and during his long years of activity in its ranks he carved a niche in local journalistic circles that time will not soon erase. Associated with him were Hon. Charles E. Hard, now executive secretary of President Harding and Col. John M. Higgins and in political matters this triumvirate was almost impregnable. They were for years picturesque figures in the political life of Portsmouth.

Many political battles were fought with Col. Simmons taking an active part in its management. He was staunch, true, forgiving and had traits of character that indelibly stamped him the genial, whole-souled gentleman that he was. The writer worked for Col. Simmons for many years and these years were filled with congenial work, happiness and contentment. The world is better off that man of Col. Simmons' character had lived in it. He is gone but his deeds of kindness, his sound advice and true friendship will linger long in the memories of those who knew him best and loved him most.

"Smutter" Matthews Injured

The Cincinnati Enquirer Tuesday said:

Henry, better known as "Smutter" Matthews, who had the Griffin (Ga.) team up among the top-notchers in the Southern ball teams, is at his home, Newport, recovering from the effects of being struck fairly in the forehead by a pitched ball while playing in a recent game. He was unconscious for 24 hours, but it is thought no permanent effects will result from the injury. Matthews, as captain and manager of the team, has suffered a run of bad luck this season. In addition to his own injury three players he was preparing to sell to major leagues have been disabled by accidents while at play.

Matthews formerly played here and has many warm friends in local fandom. He was a great favorite when he wore a Portsmouth uniform. He was a star catcher in his day and a ferocious hitter.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 26—Bulls, equipment and steel represented the firmest factors at the listless opening of today's stock market. Union Pacific, New York Central, Crucible Steel, United States Steel, Baldwin Locomotive, Mercantile Marine preferred and United States Rubber reflected further covering of short contracts. Domestic and foreign oils were irregular at slight discounts. Tobacco, leather and sugar specialties, which featured yesterday's stronger issues showed no definite trend. Preliminary exchange rates on London were moderately above yesterday's low quotation. Gains were obtained within the first hour, mainly as a result of the heaviness shown by leading oils and metals. Mexican Petroleum reacted one point and Standard Oil 1/4. U. S. Steel, whose directors meet at the close of the session to act on the second quarterly dividend, lost only a small fraction, but Bethlehem and Crucible Steels were heavy with Westinghouse Electric. American Tobacco was heartiest of the specialties and sugars and rubbers added to their early concessions. Call money opened at 5 1/2 per cent on the exchange, but was offered at 5 per cent in private loans. Stocks were inclined to improve at the outset of today's dealings, but selling pressure in the last half of the session cancelled most gains. Sales approximated 375,000 shares. The closing was irregular.

CHEAPEST EQUITY IN PORTSMOUTH

An inviting little cottage home—five rooms, bath, electricity, two cabinet mantels, two porches, cellar, slate roof—choice lot—splendid location on Sixth street. Owner paid $5600 for this property six months ago; is now offered a lucrative position in another state and says sell this week for $5300. $1000 down, balance in Building & Loan. Will consider $500 cash and $500 good pledged stock in Building and Loan.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

With the following reply, to the letter in the Sunday paper, let's call it a fifty-fifty and let it go at that.

Dear Miss Wise—I see in your column that some farmer is greatly annoyed by city folk who go out to the country and stop under shade trees, scatter papers and "stop cars within fifty feet of his (or her) home—and put out the lights." If "Farmer" would stop to count the number of things the city does for his enjoyment, I feel sure he would not have written that.

"Farmer" comes to town, allows his hungry nag to break down our expensive young shade trees, feeds him on our streets, throws the cobs and weeds left from his hay on our streets and doesn't turn himself into a "white wing" either.

We provide parks in every section of our city where Farmer can go, he scented—and eat his lunch. We have a big, comfortable living room in our Y. W. C. A. which Mrs. Farmer and daughters may enjoy. We provide a comfort station in the business part of our city, which he may use without the asking. We provide for his nag.

Pay our service department to cart away the refuse he leaves. Light our streets. Pave both our streets and sidewalks. Provide police protection for him and pay about seven-tenths of the cost of giving him good roads to the city with his market stall.

As you know our highways are sixty feet wide, but the farmer in his greed sets his fence out on our premises. If he would put his fence back where it belongs, perhaps we would not be trespassing as he presumes.

I was out driving Monday, going up Turkey Creek. I didn't see any refuse and Turkey Creek is a popular pleachers' resort. I noticed Mr. Worley has a bench constructed under some trees for people's use, but there was no refuse around it. Mr. Vaughts' grove presented an orderly appearance. Why don't the "Farmer" plan to make our stay in his neighborhood comfortable and enjoyable as we do his city visits?

Hoping the one who wrote you that complaint will see this, so he will know what we think of him.

"A CITY AUTOIST."

My Dear Miss Wise—My little girl is twelve years of age and I have had her hair bobbed because it is so full of dandruff. I thought perhaps it would help to use something on the scalp while the hair is short. I expect to keep it short until the hair comes in thicker. What would you recommend for me to use?

Vaseline is one of the best hair-growers, and will help to get rid of dandruff. It depends on the dryness of the scalp how often the vaseline should be used. Once or twice a week will be often enough, however. Make a part in the hair from front to back, and rub in vaseline thoroughly. Be careful not to let it get on the hair itself. When finished, make other parts until you have massaged the entire scalp.

My Dear Miss Wise—I am coming to you for the first time for information. Dolly, I have a friend somewhere in the U. S. Navy. Dolly, I used to correspond with him and have lost his address. I was away from here for a while and didn't write to him when I was gone. His address was H. C. P. S., Great Lakes, Ill., and every letter I send there now comes back. Now, Dolly, can you please tell me who I could write to to find out his address? Dolly, no doubt you think me rather silly to write such a letter, but I am so anxious to find out what the address is.

Write to the Camp Postmaster at Great Lakes and ask for the young man's address.

Dear Dolly—I am a young married man of twenty-one. I have been married seven months to a young widow who has a girl aged three.

My folks didn't want me to marry, but I did, anyway. We have been living in furnished rooms until I could get enough to go to housekeeping. There is a man of forty, a widower, who has been causing trouble between us. Ever since my wife quit working for him he has caused trouble. I have several letters which he wrote her trying to coax her to come to his home and stay. My wife realizes I cannot give her the home and clothes she would like to have, for I do not earn enough. Please tell me what I can do about it?

HAZEL.

I would suggest that you secure a

CENTRAL LABOR LADS DEFEAT N. & W. 4 TO 2

TEAM STANDING

| Central Labor | 8  | 13 | .381 |
| Selby         | 4  | 15 | .211 |

GAMES THIS WEEK
 Tuesday, July 26—Selby vs. Steel Plant.
 Wednesday, July 27—Selby vs. Excelsior.
 Thursday, July 28—N. & W. vs. Selby.
 Friday, July 29—Excelsior vs. Steel Plant.
 Saturday, July 30—Central Labor vs. Selby.

With the rainfall patting down from start to finish, the Central Labor boys took the measure of the N. & W. team at the Seventeenth street yards, last evening, 4 to 2, pulling the Railroaders out of a tie for first place, much to the delight of the Excelsior adherents, and very much to the chagrin of the Railroaders and surprise to those who took a good ducking in order to see the clash. The Herder Head showed up at the grounds minus the services of three of their well-advertised stars; namely, Leftfielder Smith, Shortstop H. Monk and Chief Slugger Jeannette. Manager Ed. Switalski sent a team to the service of having to call upon the services of Cottrell, formerly with the Steel Plant. Mr. Cottrell had no time to the garb of a ball player and patrolled right field in his citizen's clothes. He did a good job of it, particularly in the hitting line, gathering two solid shots and batting at a .067 clip. In center was stationery, formed with much aplomb, getting a two-bagger and capturing four difficult line drives. In left was Mr. Bauer, and he, too, was all to the merr, even if he did spill the only error chalked up to the account of the fifth place. He made two nice catches and poled a huge triple. But the most of the honor must be heaped upon the shoulders of Mr. Frebis, who was on the mound for the winners. Despite the fact that he pitched a game for Chillicothe at Lancaster, O. Sunday afternoon, Frebis performed brilliantly last evening. He allowed seven hits, two of which came in the last inning, and was really never in danger, having good control at all times, even though he tall south-paw for the Railroaders started the game, but could not last. He did not seem to have his usual zip and was not much of a puzzle. He twirled three and one-third innings and was then relieved by Leunon Wells, gold tooth and all. Wells did well while on the mound, but it simply was not written in the stars that the Railroaders were to win. The N. & W. boys wanted to win—Lordec yes, and they thought they had ducked out with the Labor boys as opponents. But that old saw, "the best laid plans of mice and men gang aft a-gley," and they were outplayed at the way, and that disposed of the proposition without any frills—"it's the truth." The game as played follows: exactly as 'twas performed:

1st Inning
 Grimm filed to Haupt in middle. Adams drove a line double to middle. W. Monk was tossed out by Hunter. Adams holding second. Dunham was thrown out by Wells. No runs, 1 hit.

2nd Inning
 Keyser singled to right. Conwell sacrificed Frebis to Dunham. Wells flied to middle, a nice catch by Adams. Shoemaker was checked out by Grimm. No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

3rd Inning
 "Champ" Cooper lined to Conwell at second. Bauer popped to Sowards at short. E. Cooper beat out a hit to short, taking second on Sowards's poor throw. Cottrell fanned. No runs, 1 hit, 1 error.

4th Inning
 Sowards struck out. Thimmes rolled to Grimm for the second out. Haupt was tossed out by E. Cooper at short. No runs, no hits, no errors.

5th Inning
 Frebis was given a hit on a liner to the box. Grimm laid down a bunt which Hunter fielded too slow, and threw to second, both runners being safe. Hunter emitted a wild pitch, both runners moving up. Adams hit to first, being flagged out but Frebis scored. Wildge Monk singled to middle. Grimm scoring. Dunham skied to Haupt. C. Cooper lined to Keyser in right—2 runs, 2 hits, no errors.

6th Inning
 Goode doubled to left, favorite spot in left. Hunter flied to middle. "Ready" Keyser fouled to Monk. Conwell looped the loop to Adams in center, who looked to be in for a large evening—"hurray for Dewey." No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

7th Inning
 Bauer flied to "Pat" Shoemaker in left. E. Cooper shot a single into left, and took second on a wild pitch. Another wild pitch carried him to third. Cottrell scored Cooper with a single through the box. Wells went to the mound and his first offering, a wild pitch, carried Cottrell to second. Frebis, popped to Thimmes at second. Grimm's smash was handled by Thimmes—1 run, 2 hits, no errors. Manager Goode shook up his train when Wells went to the mound. Wells singled to left and went to third when Bauer threw the ball away. Shoemaker beat out a hit to short. Sowards was tossed out by Frebis, the runners holding the sacks. Thimmes was hit by a pitched ball, clogging the cushions. Wells scored on Thimmes long fly to Bauer. Goode popped to short—1 run, 2 hits, 1 error.

8th Inning
 Dewey Adams fanned. W. Monk hit "er hard" but "it's the truth" tossed him out. Dunham tripled to deep center and went through the mud like a turtle. C. Cooper flied to Wells at third—No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

9th Inning
 Wells floated to Cottrell in right. Keyser lined to Bauer in left. Conwell walked on wide ones. Wells singled too hot for E. Cooper at short. Shoemaker fouled to Monk, who flied the ball to Dunham who was not expecting it. The ball hit Dunham on the point of the jaw, knocking him completely out. He fell like a beef, but revived shortly and remained in the game—No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

10th Inning
 Bauer got his mallet hit as an Industrial League player and it was a real one—a triple to left. E. Cooper fanned on high ones. Cottrell singled past first, scoring Bauer. Frebis walked. Grimm flied to Wells. Adams fanned—1 run, 2 hits, no errors. Sowards rolled to second. Thimmes flied to Adams. Goode fouled to Monk—No runs, no hits, no errors.

11th Inning
 W. Monk fanned. Dunham was tossed out by Wells. C. Cooper flied to Shoemaker. No runs, no hits, no errors. Goode singled to middle. Waits fanned.

Looks Like Deal Was Made To Bolster Slipping Giants

Pitchers "Thumbing" Ball

CHICAGO, July 26—National League pitchers are resorting to the old trick of "thumbing" the ball, now prohibited, it was declared today by several members of the pitching staff of the Chicago Cubs. The Boston and Brooklyn pitchers, especially, were frequent violators of the rule, according to "Speed" Martin. In the closing game of the Chicago-Brooklyn series at Brooklyn recently, which Chicago captured 3 to 1 in 13 innings, Sherrod Smith "nicked" the ball cover with his thumb nail, Martin declared. When Martin got one of the "nicked" balls, he said he threw such a wide curve to Shortstop Olson that Umpire Klem grew suspicious, examined the ball and threw it out of the game. Martin said he protested that the opposing pitchers had been marring the ball to get faster breaks on their balls, but Klem ruled the ball out.

Carey Had 11 Putouts

PITTSBURGH, PA., July 26—"Scoops" Carey, Pirate centerfielder yesterday was credited with eleven putouts in a game here with New York. This achievement is said to equal the mark set by Nap Lajoie, of the 1910 White Sox, when he took twelve chances without a slip in a game with Cleveland. One of them was an assist, however. Records show that eleven putouts for an outfielder was exceeded once in 1897 by Jimmy Slagle, who played right field for the Chicago Cubs and had an even dozen put-outs to his credit.

THE VULTURES GATHER

MISSOURI has voted to issue sixty million dollars for road construction and incidentally thereby precipitated herself into a frightful mess.
Neither plan nor thought was laid as to how the sixty million dollars, once being voted, were to be spent. Now with the carrion in sight the vultures are gathering. It isn't much concern as to whether the roads are built, the whole issue is as to who can get the money. The mess has come to such a point that finally the governor has had to put his foot down hard and say there will be no money spent at all unless it go for roads of approved merit and constructed after a fixed system that will start somewhere and end somewhere.

One of the pork barrel schemes was to apportion the money to the several counties on the basis of the square foot of the respective areas. One fine result of this would be to give the most money to the poorest counties and have it expended where there was the least traffic, where it would do the least good—to the roads.
Road taxation, or bondage, which in the end comes down to the same thing, can not be altogether equitable. Good roads are an absolute necessity, but it so happens that those who are least directly benefited by them have to pay the most for them. It is a condition that can not be avoided. Ohio has been notable of late years in road construction and equally so because, in so far as has been revealed, there is a minimum of graft accompanying the new era. Her laws on the subject are not altogether equitable, however. For instance her state road tax is not divided in the proportion that it is paid. The smaller counties get more out than they pay in. Again all cities and incorporated cities and villages have to pay the county road tax, which must all be applied to roads outside their corporate limits. Further, injustice appears in that cities and villages have to lay their own streets and maintain them.

It is an order that must exist, however, if there are to be better highways and the rather curious situation arises that the townsman is always more willing to vote more road taxes than is the countryman.

DISTINCT AMONG MANY

THE killing of a venerable man by a train, last week, at a railroad crossing near Rarden, occurring less than a week ago, brings attention to what is, probably, the most dangerous stretch of road in the state.

From Rarden to Henley, a distance of about eight miles, there is a railroad crossing in a shorter distance than every half mile, or ten in all. They are all grade crossings and their peril is increased because they are all approached by sharp grades both in the road and in the railway, together with the passing of many trains.

The county has many road problems and demands confronting it, all so insistent, that it sometimes appears the commissioners might be unable to do anything at all, through puzzlement as to where first to begin.

It does seem, however, that here is a situation that should have the earliest attention possible. As the highway runs mostly through the valley of Brush Creek, its course could be altered to parallel the railway on one side only, without meeting any particular engineering difficulties, or excessive cost, provided the land owners would not make exorbitant demands.

Anyway the situation is one that demands consideration. As is the case with every other highway, the traffic on this one is constantly increasing with the advent of the automobile and the danger of fatal accidents ever growing more imminent.

AS TO OURSELVES AND OTHERS

ONE of our valued subscribers, a Republican, evidently, has a most sensitive political epidemic, since he writes us to complain that every day The Times has something very unpleasant to him to say about conditions, the responsibility of which it charges to the Harding administration.

Now we submit his protest is neither correct as to fact, and, no matter if it were true, he has no call to object. Notwithstanding the amplitude of material upon which it might well base criticism, The Times lets days and days go by without reference to either the hard times, or the Harding administration. But it is not honestly to be denied that it has ample provocation to retaliate, if that were all it had in mind.

Everyone is familiar with the continuous and indecent attacks made upon Wilson and his administration. The country was glutted with it. How unabated and unjustified it was is shown in the fact that those things for which he was most harshly abused have been approved and adopted by the Harding administration.

Oh, yes, there was one exception, that we would address the attention of rural friend to especially. This was the matter of the regulatory price of wheat. We'll wager a bushel of the first wheat raised in Scioto county under the new order, that our friend a matter of a few hundred times vociferously shouted that Wilson was robbing him and every other farmer by having the law fix the price of wheat at $2.26; they'd get at least $3 a bushel if the curb was taken off. The price-fixing was abrogated and what happened a week afterwards? Wheat down sixty cents a bushel. What is it today? $1.25.

Neither can we let the assertion of our esteemed reader go by without correction of his assertion that 1912 and 1913 were bad times and we had the beginning and worst of this in 1920. In the first years named millions of dollars were being spent in Portsmouth in expansion of various kinds, everybody had work, though in 1912 there may have been to some extent the dullness of a presidential year in some places. In 1920 the country reached the apex of activity and high wages. If there was a subsidence at the heel of the year, why did it come when everybody knew the Republican party was going back into power?

MRS. GRANT MOORE HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. Grant Moore of 623 Sixth street had her lip badly cut, several teeth knocked out and a severe cut on her head Sunday when she overtook a touring car crashed into a bridge near Circleville Sunday morning about six o'clock. Mr. Moore who is a B. & O. yard engineer suffered only bruises.

He was driving slowly on a sharp curve in the road and suddenly two women stepped out from the weeds at the side and to prevent hitting them Moore sent his machine into the side of the bridge, one front wheel leaving the bridge floor. Mrs. Moore was cut by glass from the windshield.

Mr. Moore just had the car overhauled and had spent a neat sum of money for repairs. A front fender was smashed, bumper broken, light smashed and front spring broken, and a hole was torn in a tire.

Can Identify Murderers

HAMILTON, O., July 26.—After a two days' search the Hamilton police have found one man who can positively identify the murderers of Arthur B. Conery, of Columbus, auto dealer, who was killed near Hamilton early Sunday morning by auto bandits. This man was talking to the bandits on the road a short distance from the scene of the hold-up and shooting.

Within the next twenty-four hours the Hamilton police expect to bring about the arrest of several suspects and these will be brought to Hamilton for identification. All clues point to two men now being sought by the Dayton police department.

Mrs. Conery left Hamilton today for Sharon, Pa., with the body of her husband. She was accompanied by Mrs. R. T. Middleton, of Connersville, Ind.

RAILWAY ASKS LOAN

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Application for a government loan of $15,000,000 was made today through the interstate commerce commission by the Great Northern railroad, based on the assumption that plans were shaping for railroad refunding operations which would make the money available.

It would be used to repay a similar loan obtained from the government at the close of federal control. The application recites that in settling accounts with the road, the director general of railroads withheld $10,997,642 from sums due the carrier under the guarantee, setting off that amount against addition and betterment items charged against the road for the control period. The Great Northern sought to have the government carry this obligation, but was denied as no funds were available. The director general has assured the carrier, the application added, that in event of a change of policy and funds were made available he would refund the withheld sum in whole or part.

Before The Flivver Came
Before the flivver came in style, we rode in cabs and chaises; On bicycles and trolley cars, That we thought ran like blazes. We rode in wagons over land, And row boats on the river; But that was in the halcyon days, Before we had the flivver.

Before The Flivver came in style, we had no carburetor; No stripping gears to give us woe, No halcyon commutator. And if they'd say a nut was loose, That would give me a shiver; That meant a lunatic at large, Before we had the flivver.

Before The Flivver came in style, A "blowout" meant a party; To say "You'd burst an inner tube," Would cause a laugh quite hearty. To say "Your lights were out of fix," You meant your lights and liver; But that was in the days before We had the frisky flivver.

Before The Flivver came in style, We travelled slow but steady; No frozen motor to crank up, Old "Pet" was always ready. We wanted speed, we used the whip, We had no gas to give 'er, But that was in the days before We had the speedy flivver.

Overdone
Parson Blank, anxious to interest a society woman in the poor of his parish, took her to visit one of the "poor." "Well," he asked after she had glanced around, "what do you think of the life of these poor people? Awful, isn't it?" The lady raised her lorgnette and, used to regarding everything as a craze, she replied, "Dreadful! I had no idea. But isn't it rather overdone?"

Q. How long is a sea knot?—C. P. G.

A. A knot is a unit of speed, not distance, but is equivalent to the nautical mile. The Admiralty mile is 6080 feet, while the U. S. Coast Survey uses a length of 6092.7 feet as its nautical mile.

Q. Who was the first champion boxer?—T. R.

A. The first ring champion was James Figg, being recognized as the English champion in 1710. He held the title for 11 years.

Q. How does air compare in volume before and after being liquified?—P. P. L.

A. Eight hundred cubic inches of ordinary air gives about a cubic inch of liquid gas.

Q. What verse of the Bible is the neekerses?—W. D. J.

A. The first verse of the Fifty-first Psalm was given this name. At one time, any person in holy orders could claim exemption from punishment for certain crimes. This "neekerses" was afterward extended to all who could read, the Bible being handed the culprit for a test. If he could read verse from the Psalms—particularly Psalm 51:1, his penalty was light, that is, he "saved his neck."

Q. What do fire flies do aside from making our summer evenings beautiful?—F. E. H.

A. Fire flies have no particular value, but do devour snails and the larvae of insects.

Q. Does a man desiring to emigrate to this country have to consult the American Consul or Commissioner?—W. R. O.

A. The present regulations provide that no alien whose passport does not bear the visa stamped thereon by an American Commissioner or Consul abroad, will be allowed entry into the United States.

Q. What proportion of oil must be added to white lead?—L. M.

A. Every 100 lbs. of white lead requires at least 7 1/2 gal. of linseed oil. Kindly give a recipe for Marmoussy Jam.—J. H. L.

A. Pure and cure 2 lbs. apples, and stone 2 lbs. of plums. Put the plums and stones in a preserving pan, with 2 cups of water, simmer 30 minutes, then strain. Add 5 1/2 pounds of sugar to juice, bring to a boil. Peel 2 lbs. of pears, cut up pears and apples, add these with plums to syrup, boil 30 minutes and pour into glasses, covering with paraffin when cool.

Q. What is flame made up of?—F. M.

A. A simple flame, as that of a candle, consists of a luminous envelope surrounding a body of unburned vapor and itself surrounded by an invisible layer of gases produced by the burning.

Q. Why is the word colonel pronounced as if it contained an "r"?—R. H. C.

A. The early spelling of the word—colonel—followed the Spanish and early French, accounting for the "r" sound. The present pronunciation—"colonel"—became established about 1800 before which time the second "o" was given a value.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

By W. G. SIBLEY
The Silver Service, Gallipoli, Ohio

Patterson Retires
John H. Patterson of Fair Hill, Dayton, Ohio, has resigned the presidency of the National Cash Register Company, one of several great business organizations in the Ohio city. He was and is a man of many idiosyncrasies, combined with great driving force and insight, along with a few traits that have not always seemed admirable to all who have fallen under his direction in the immense industry he controlled.

His word was always the law in his organization, which was all right so far as matters connected with the business was concerned, but sometimes he invaded the personal affairs of his employees in a way that was resented. An instance of this was once related to us.

On stated occasions meetings of the large sales force of the company are held in Dayton, at which efficiency in salesmanship is taught. One day when about a thousand men had been giving closing attention to a lecturer for an hour, Mr. Patterson took the floor to impress his ideas upon a body of men of high character and dignity. He announced that he was going to put them through some stunts, and ordered every man in the hall to get up. For some reason, the tone of Patterson's order, or something, one man did not arise. Then Mr. Patterson put them through a series of gymnastics. Finally he noticed the man who remained seated. Calling the sales chief to him he acquired the name of the offender. "Discharge him," he said. "But he's one of our best salesmen!" repeated Patterson. "Suggest that he might be ill were made in vain, and he was discharged in spite of his splendid record of valuable service.

Patterson was that way. No man had any certainty of continuance in his employ, however faithful he might be. His personal whim—a dislike for the color of one's necktie, his hat, or any little thing of a whimsical nature, took precedence over service. It is said Hugh Chalmers, Colonel Deeds, and other men prominent in his organization, left it because of this flaw in Patterson's character. At one time he took a notion that all his higher officials should ride horseback an hour or two before going to work, and made them do it, to the amusement of Dayton, until he tired of it himself.

Out where it gets hot and stays hot, until corn has formed on the ear and humanity lives in tropical attire through June, July and August; and over Nebraska and Kansas the heat shimmers and undulates under the intense rays of blistering suns; and people begin to hate the very name of summer and seek a place of refuge, they find Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, Indiana and Ohio just as hot, and wonder if the cave men did not, after all, have something on modern sufferers.

Frequently a question contains its own answer. Such a question was the one put recently by a Kansas young woman who had failed to qualify for a position as teacher. Feeling that she had not been considered deservingly, she wrote: "I think I am entitled to an explanation of why I failed, anyway."—Boston Transcript.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 25.—Broadway fashions its own morals. Liaisons shocking to other neighborhoods, go unnoticed. The White Way's dazzling lights have given Broadway a "blind spot" for tawdry amours. An early morning fire brought an acre of troweled heads to windows on either side of Forty-first street. A man and woman leaned out one window. Across the street another woman waved greeting to the man—her husband. They had separated a year ago.

Recently a famous beauty of Broadway was reported dying in Paris. Along a Forty-second street curb I saw the man she had recently divorced talking with the man who now holds the woman's hand. I happened to know they sent her a joint cable of condolence. Marriage becomes in the final analysis a matter of tolerance.

There are no easy confidences. Broadway's wives and husbands are generally self supporting. Any number of marriages are contracted to further professional ambitions. Husband does not hurry home for fear of being scolded. They may not come home for many days and when they do the greeting is as casual as if they had been away only an hour. Wives have learned the futility of questioning.

You see them in the eating places around Times Square, dining together but splitting the check—even to the amount of the waiter's tip. There are not quarrels and jealous rages so common among those who indulge in illicit affairs along Broadway. It is a cool and calculating toleration—so studiously commercial that it chills the imagination.

They are not unions of happiness, nor do they claim to be. They cannot be explained except as an economic necessity. Perhaps it is loneliness and the desire to have a place called home. When they separate, and separation is almost always certain—they pass out of each other's lives without recriminations and bitter words.

Broadway wives and husbands, too, scoff at the idea of married couples being in love. It isn't the fashion on Broadway and Broadway is the only world they know. A cool, calculating orbit indeed!

They were thrown together by Fate acting as a head waiter in a restaurant in Columbus Circle. Being strangers they waited a while and then talked of the weather, business conditions and the like. Such meetings many times strike sparks of romance. I confess to over-dropping.

It was not a flirtation at all. At length she ventured to ask him his business. "You'll laugh," he said, "but I am a manufacturer of bird cages." She didn't laugh. She seemed relieved for she replied: "Mine is much more out of the ordinary. I travel and sell burial shippers."

When I left they were making great progress. O. Henry could finish it.

New York is on the neck of the soda water profligate. In the Bronx the children are parading and because a city office holder owns a big soda water establishment it has become a political issue and he faces defeat at the next election. Eighty-five big drug store fountains have gone back to pre-war prices but that is a small number comparatively. Hicks on Fifth avenue—the most exclusive soda water dealer—still charges 33 cents and the majority of other average fountains are charging 25 cents. The glasses at Hicks are most generous; however, and the place is very hitting.
